

DETAILS OF LATHAM WILL.

Additional Bequests to Hopkingsville People Are Made Known.

MISS GLASS GETS 25 THOUSAND.

His Memphis Relatives are Generously Remembered, Also His Employees.

A New York paper says: The will of the late John C. Latham, of the firm of Latham, Alexander & Co., bankers, of 16 Wall street, was filed in the Surrogate's office. The petition set forth that the testator left personal property valued at more than $10,000 and that he did not leave any real estate in this State.

To the city of Hopkinsville, Ky., the testator devised the family homestead in that city, to be used as a park, to be known as "Virginia Park," and he bequeathed to the city $20,000 to lay out the grounds. The testator also devised to the same city a lot of ground to be called "Peace Park," together with $10,000. He directed that no ornamental fountain shall be erected in Virginia Park.

The testator in the will directs the executors to invest $50,000 in high grade, long date bonds and turn them over to the Grace Protestant Episcopal church of Hopkinsville, the income to be used as the rector, vestry and church wardens shall deem fit.

To the city of Hopkinsville the testator left $60,000 in 4 per cent bonds, the income from which to be used for the benefit of the poor of that place.

The testator left $25,000 to be distributed by the executors among the employees of the firm at 16 and 18 Wall Street.

To his gardner, James Lee, he left $1,000.

The testator left to his widow $10,000 in cash and the residue of the estate after the payments of the specific legacies and devises. The residuary estate was understood to be very large.

The testator left to the Farmers Loan and Trust Company in trust $200,000, with directions to pay half of the income therefrom to his daughter, Alice Latham, until she attains the age of 18 years, and then to pay her the entire income until she is 35 years old, when she is to have the principal.

To Catherine and Jean Allen, of Memphis, Tenn., and to Gracie Getty, of Youkers, the testator bequeathed $5,000 each. To his nephew, John C. Latham, of the United States navy, he left $25,000, and to his mother-in-law, Ellen H. Allen, the testator left $25,000. To Miss Sadie L. Everett, residing at 398 West Fifty-sixth street, the testator bequeathed $10,000 in these words: "In recognition of her faithful and efficient services as my stenographer for many years past and of her kind and affectionate attention to her mother." To his namesake, John Latham Allen, the testator bequeathed $1,000.

Another paragraph of the will read: "On account of my regard and affection for my partner, Chas. Fraser, I give to him $5,000."

To his brother-in-law, Harry Allen, of Youkers, the testator left $15,000, and to Mr. Allen's wife, $5,000. To his sister-in-law, Mrs. L. M. McFarland, of Memphis, Tenn., the testator left $10,000.

Richard H. Allen, of the same place, a like amount.

To Miss Jennie Glass, Hopkinsville, he leaves $25,000.

The will was executed on June 18 last and names as its executors, Charles Fraser, Harry Allen and William G. Bristow, who are to serve without giving bonds.

SECOND REGIMENT TO ATTEND CAPITAL FAIR

Adjutant-General Gives His Consent For The Boys in Blue To Go.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 30.—Adjutant-General P. P. Johnston Monday gave tentative acceptance to an invitation from the Capital Fair directors to have the men of the Second Regiment of the Kentucky State Guard, who will be encamped here this week, attend the fair on Friday as the guests of the fair. A committee composed of Messrs. George H. Harper, W. S. Farmer and John H. Cassell called upon him and gave the invitation, which will be accepted should not anything occur to prevent it.

It is proposed now to make Friday "Military" day at the fair. The soldiers will march through the city out to the fair grounds, where they will maneuver and have dress parade in the large enclosure within the one-eighth of a mile track. After that they will disband and take in the fair, and probably return to camp by boat.

Arrangements were concluded today for the operation of four steam boats to and from the fair grounds every fifteen minutes by Burdett, Woods & Company. A fifteen-minute schedule will be carried out, a boat leaving here every fifteen minutes, from the St. Clair-street wharf for the grounds, and returning likewise.

Brick Southworth, of this city, is detailed with this Regiment as commissary officer, also Lieut. Henry W. Rogers as assistant range officer.

GEO. M. WILLIS DEAD.

Veteran Railroad Man Passes Away at Horse Cave.

Geo. M. Willis, former dispatcher at this place and a veteran railroad man, died at Horse Cave, his former home, Tuesday night, August 17.

Mr. Willis has been in bad health for some time owing to a nervous breakdown and a stroke of partial paralysis, and was moved to Horse Cave recently in the hopes that it would benefit his health.

Mr. Willis had been with the L. & N. for a number of years, and was one of their oldest employees in length of service. He began as an operator when still young and worked for them until death.

He was chief dispatcher on the St. Louis Division for a number of years at Evansville, and was later transferred here, where he worked as dispatcher until his nerve condition compelled him to quit. He then worked a trick here for some time, moving to Morganfield and taking the agency there on the opening of the M. & A. Upon the death of Agent D. M. Woolridge, agent at Madisonville, Mr. Willis was transferred there and assumed the agency, which position he held until death.

Mr. Willis is survived by a widow and three children, one of whom is Conductor A. B. Willis, employed on the L. & N.

The remains were taken to the home of his wife at Horse Cave.

GREEN RIVER DRAW BRIDGE COMPLETED

Structure Ready For Use On the Madisonville, Hartford and Eastern Railroad.

The draw bridge over Green river at Smallhous, on the Madisonville, Hartford and Eastern railroad, has been completed and turned across the channel. Boats approaching this bridge are compelled to give the usual signals for the bridge to be turned.

Work on the new road, on which trains will soon be in operation to Madisonville, is progressing nicely and it is believed by promoters they will have trains running into that city in the early fall. Several miles of track have been built out of Madisonville and the crew of men on the Hartford road are rapidly laying steel toward that city.—Hartford Republican.

W. S. TAYLOR COMES BACK TO KENTUCKY.

After Nine Years of Exile Returns to Native State, But Will Not Stay.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 30.—Kentucky has a visitor tonight who for nine years was an exile from his native state because of his alleged connection with the assassination of Senator William Goebel, former Governor William S. Taylor, who now lives in Indianapolis, and who was pardoned several months ago by Governor Wilton, of all charges against him growing out of the Goebel murder. Taylor was in Louisville last night.

He says he will never return to Kentucky to live as this state has brought him too much sorrow already, his wife and daughter having died of broken hearts as the result of accusation against him. Taylor will probably visit his old home in the Butler county mountains before returning to Indianapolis. If he does a public reception will be tendered him by his former townspeople.

Home Talent at the Rink Monday Night.

Monday night at the Rink Mr. W. S. McGary secured the services of some of our local talent to crowded house and they were highly appreciated as was shown by the loud and continued applause. Mr. Lee Withers rendered a beautiful song entitled, "Blue Feathers." "My Rambler Rose", by Mr. Ed Trahern, was well received. Cliff Long's selection "If I had a thousand lives to live," was exceptionally good. One of the largest houses ever in the city enjoyed these songs and the moving pictures.

Compulsory Education Law.

Section 172 of the School Law of Kentucky provides that every parent, guardian or other person in any city of the fourth class having control or supervision of any child or children between the ages of seven and fourteen years inclusive shall cause such child to be enrolled in and attend some public or private day of parochial school regularly each school year for a full term or period of said school. Section 173 provides that any parent or guardian failing to comply with Section 172 shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction be fined for the first offense not exceeding $25 and for all subsequent offenses not more than $100 or imprisonment in county jail for 30 days or both in the discretion of the court.

FORMER PASTOR RETURNS TO LECTURE PLATFORM.

Paducah Man Recovers From Unfortunate Drug Habit and Resumes Work.

Paducah, Ky., Aug. 30.—The Rev. G. W. Briggs, formerly pastor of Methodist churches at Paducah and Owensboro, and the greatest orator in the Southern Methodist church, but who recently was arrested in New York for stealing small articles from drug stores and pawning them for money to buy a drug, is in the city.

He has returned to the lecture platform, which he graced for a time after his retirement from the ministry. He appears to be entirely cured of his habit.

Joseph Leiter Denies Mine Sale.

"I'll sell anything I've got if I can get more than I think it's worth," said Joseph Leiter last night when he put a price of $8,000,000 on his mines at Zeigler, Ill.

Mr. Leiter's statement was in answer to a report that he was about to sell his mine to a syndicate of Eastern and Chicago capitalists who are said to have inspected the property recently. He denied any deal was on foot or was projected, but added he would sell if he could get his price. The mine has been closed since February, when a disastrous explosion occurred in the colliery. He states that the present price of coal does not warrant his working the mine, but that he would open it again in time for the fall business.

It was also reported that the Illinois Central Railroad had abandoned Zeigler since the mine closed. F. H. Harwood, coal traffic manager of the road, denied this. "We have taken the agent away," said Mr. Harwood, "as his only duties were the billing of coal shipments. We are still running trains through Zeigler and will continue to do so. As soon as the mine opens again we will put an agent at Zeigler."

THREE-CORNERED FIGHT

Is on for Superintendent of the New Kentucky State Capitol.

Frankfort, Ky., August 30.—A three-cornered fight is on before the state capitol commission for superintendent of the new building. W. E. Bidwell, of Louisville, a well known newspaper man, is urged by Gov. Willson; Judge Wells, of Grayson county, by Treasurer Farley and Secretary of State Bruner, and H. T. Bently, of Beattyville, by Auditor James and Attorney General Breathitt.

Kentucky Horse Show.

The prize-list for the Louisville Horse Show, the tenth annual exhibition of which will be given at the First Regiment Armory in the metropolis of the State during the week of October 11, has been completed, and indicates that the horsemen of this State and country at large will have a rich array of money and plate to contest for. The total amount will run well over $12,000, and insures competition by the finest horses in the country.

Kentucky saddlers, as usual, have a large place on the program, as they have always had. The three-gated and five-gated saddles, for which this Commonwealth is famous, have for its thoroughbreds, have been and will continue to be practical in the future.

ability to do will be considered in making awards. Mat Cohen, the Ball Brothers, the Gay stable, Lawrence Jones and other noted owners of saddle horses will have entries this year.

In the harness classes the Louisville show will be, as usual, almost unequaled. Last year the features of this division were the exhibitions of Alfred G. Vanderbilt and Judge William H. Moore, and it is practically certain that both will be back this fall. In addition C. W. Watson, Miss Emily Bedford, Reginald Vanderbilt and J. W. Harriman are expected to show. Altogether, the prospects for the show are unusually brilliant.

$78,000 FOR KENTUCKY

Annual Appropriation For State Militia.

Washington, Aug. 28.—Four million dollars, appropriated by Congress for the militia, has been allotted among the several States and Territories by Lieut. Col. E. M. Weaver, of the general staff, corps of the army, who is chief of the division of militia.

The enlisted strength of the militia as shown by tables prepared by Col. Weaver, is 109,861 and the allotment under various heads include $1,472,150 for arms and camp purposes; $490,650 for promotion of rifle practice; $628,561 for ammunition, and $970,656 for supplies.

The allotment for the States and Territories in round numbers include the following: Illinois, $194,000; Indiana, $91,000; Kentucky, $78,000; Mississippi, $58,000; Missouri, $116,000; New York, $340,000; Ohio, $170,000; Tennessee, $66,000; West Virginia, $44,000.

Joseph Hibbs Dead.

One of the oldest and most prominent farmers of Hopkins county, in the person of Joseph Hibbs, of the Grapevine country, was removed from the walks of life Thursday morning at 7:00 o'clock. The end was not unexpected for he had been gradually sinking for several hours before the summons came.

Dental trouble and congestion, resulting from a fall sustained Tuesday morning. From that time he commenced sinking and it was soon recognized that the end was near.

The deceased was 78 years old and has lived all his life in Hopkins county. He was known throughout the county and numbered his friends by the score. He was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church at Flat Creek and lived a christian life.

Mr. Hibbs is survived by a widow and eight children: Mrs. Rose Ligon, of the New country, Mrs. Mollie Smith, of the Earlinton vicinity, Mrs. W. A. Toombs, of Earlinton, Mrs. Green Clark and Mrs. Robt. Peyton, of Mortons Gap, Elgie Hibbs, Earlinton, and Charlie Hibbs, Madisonville, and Mrs. Kate Hibbs, at home.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Wallace, of Brodgers at Flat creek, interment at the same place.

Capitalist Drop Dead.

Slaughterville, Ky., Aug. 31.—James Rakestraw, capitalist and one of the largest land owners in this county, dropped dead at his home near here. He was seventy-seven years of age.

AIR LINE FROM COAST TO COAST.

Seaboard Air Line and C. B. & Q. Connected by Tennessee Central.

WILL PASS THROUGH HOPKINSVILLE AND PADUCAH.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 30.—The Burlington system is going to establish an air line through Nashville, connecting the grain fields of the Northwest with the Atlantic coast, and affording Nashville shippers 28,000 more miles of railway and two big trunk line.

In this the Tennessee Central will play a conspicuous part, as it will be the connecting link between the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy at Paducah and the Seaboard Air Line at Rutherfordton, N. C. and it means that the Burlington System will acquire the Tennessee Central or that it will be operated as the connecting link between the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy (the Burlington system) and the Seaboard Air Line.

This also means that the big railroad men have their eyes on the Southeast, and intend to develop its resources by giving an air line from St. Louis, Chicago and the Northwest through Nashville, Knoxville, connecting with the Knoxville, Sevierville and Eastern, and thence to Rutherfordton and the Seaboard Air Line direct to Wilmington.

To effect this the Tennessee Central will build from Hopkinsville to Paducah, a distance of seventy miles, where the road will connect with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy (the Burlington system) at Metropolis, Ill., which is just across the river from Paducah.

This will give the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy a direct line from St. Louis, Chicago and the Northwest into Nashville via the Tennessee Central from Paducah. The Tennessee Central will afford an outlet to coast through Harriman, thence over a new line to Knoxville, a distant of eighty-five miles, and from Knoxville to Sevierville over the Knoxville, Sevierville and Eastern to Sevierville, thirty miles, where it will connect with the Seaboard Air Line at Rutherfordton and thence to the coast through Nashville.

WILL COMPEL CHILDREN TO ATTEND THE SCHOOLS

Compulsory Educational Law Goes Into Effect in Ohio County Next Monday.

Rockport, Ky., Aug. 30.—The public school term at Rockport, Ohio county, will begin on Monday of next week. Ohio county being one of the counties to which the compulsory education law applies, the directors of the district have announced their intention to have the law enforced to the letter.

Notices have been posted throughout the district explaining the matter and notifying parents as to the consequences in case of its violation.

The law requires that all children between the ages of 7 and fourteen years in the ties affected shall attend school. Parents or guardians who fail to do so, the law will be fined.

Teachers of the district are urged to cooperate with the law.

MINING NOTES.

Thos. Long, assistant mine inspector, spent Sunday here with his parents.

Jno. Carroll, foreman of the Rose Creek mines, was in the city Sunday.

R. M. Solmon, manager of the Crabtree Coal and Mining Co., was in the city Sunday.

Claude Baker, manager of the store for the Powderly Coal Co., was in the city Tuesday.

Texas increased her output in 1908 over 1907 of 247,308 tons of coal, enriching the state $640,670.

The Shamrock mine one of the St. Bernard group which has been closed down for some time in order to make some needed repair and enlarge the capacity will open up some time soon.

Harlan county, Ky., is one of the richest sections in the South in coal deposits, but no railroad has yet been extended into that section because of geographical conditions. The prospects are now bright for an early development of the vast coal fields of the Black Mountain territory, the Wasioto & Black Mountain extension being only one of a number of projects designed with a view to opening the coal resources of the county.

The mines of the Ohio Coal Company at Hillside, Ky., have been purchased by John B. Brasher, of Madisonville, and he will begin to operate them at once. These mines are conceded to be among the best equipped in Western Kentucky, and are situated on the trunk line of the I. C. Railroad near Greenville. The exact price paid by Mr. Brasher for this property could not be learned, but it is known to be not less than $100,000.—Fuel.

The Witteville coal mines, near Poteau, Okla., and the Poteau & Western Railroad, extending from Poteau to the mines, were sold to G. G. Green, of Kansas City, and F. W. Campbell, receiver for the property, to H. O. Thomas, of Winchester, Ky., and J. M. Thompson, of Drakesboro, Ky., owners of coal mines in Kentucky and West Virginia. Two hundred thousand dollars was paid for the Witteville mines. Three hundred men will be employed immediately.

Former Congressman F. A. Hopkins, of Prestonburg, Ky., closed a deal with the Colonial Coal and Coke Company by which he leased them 800 acres of coal property lying just across the river from town. It is a valuable piece of property, known to carry two seams of coal, the lower, or No. 1, showing 4 feet 4 inches, and No. 2 showing 5 feet 4 inches of clear coal. The company at once began work, and this will make the third mining operation within the corporate limits of Prestonburg.

A railroad extension, in which a number of St. Louisans are interested, is to be built from Beattyville, Ky., through Perry county, and on through the coal fields of Letcher county, through the Elkhorn coal fields to a connection with the Chesapeake & Ohio, near "The Breaks," distance of about 100 miles. The name of the road is the Eastern Kentucky & Central. It will tap one of the best undeveloped coal fields in the entire South. All along the line are coal veins, running from 7 to 12 feet of the finest coking coal. A survey of the road is now being made.

Coal Company Raising Timbers.

The St. Bernard Coal Company, with headquarters at Earlinton, Ky., owns extensive tracts of land in fee simple as well as the mineral rights under some thousands of acres as a reserve for future coal operation. A portion of the area is set

An Open Letter.

Earlington, Ky., Aug. 18, 1909.

Mr. Coal Miner.

Mr. Coal Operator.

Mr. Business Man.

Western Kentucky.

Gentlemen:—

Are you a subscriber to THE BEE?

Do YOU read THE BEE and advertise in THE BEE and give it the hearty and substantial support its devotion for twenty years to your interest deserves?

Now is a good time to take a fresh start. THE BEE is preparing to issue a splendid illustrated Coal edition, which will contain in picture and story a record of the present status and the future possibilities of the Western Kentucky Coal Field. Special original articles written by authorities on these subjects, including Mr. C. J. Norwood, Dean of the College of Mining Engineering, State University of Kentucky, and head of the Kentucky Geological survey, and Mr. John B. Atkinson, member of the Kentucky Conservation commission and the leading Kentucky authority on the subject of forestry, giving descriptive history of the coals of this field and their present development, and bearing on the very live question of forestry as related to the coal mining industry in Kentucky, all handsomely illustrated, will be published in this Special Edition. The work of soliciting is well under way and the leading coal companies in the territory so far worked have practically all made contracts for space, in which will be featured their individual operations.

Every coal operator in the Western Field should be represented in this important edition. Every important business related to the coal industry of Western Kentucky should be represented in its advertising columns. Every coal miner and every business man should be in position to possess a copy of this Special Coal Edition when issued. Every paid annual subscriber to THE EARLINGTON BEE will receive a copy of this Special Edition.

Send in your subscription, Mr. Miner. And you, Mr. Operator and Mr. Business Man, hold yourself in a friendly and receptive mood to make a contract for space when our solicitor calls to see you. Your indorsement and patronage will be appreciated.

Very truly yours,

THE EARLINGTON BEE.

the company has now splendid young forests of various kinds that will become of great future value to the mining operations. The company has now 1,250,000 young black walnut trees, many of them fifteen to eighteen years old. Since 1905 has planted 160,000 Catalpa Speciosa on 230 acres of ground, 200,000 black locust on 280 acres of ground and 10,000 tulip trees on twenty acres. Their extensive farms are chiefly devoted to the growing of hay to feed the live stock employed in their mining operations.—Fuel.

The Rescue Movement in Kentucky.

A movement, which it is believed will be of incalculable value in the protection of the lives of coal miners of Kentucky was inaugurated at the Mine Foreman's School of the College of Mining Engineering of Kentucky State University this month. This movement was the beginning of the work, and it is expected will be the means of establishing a rescue station in this State by the United States Government. The instruction, which was attended by practical miners from all over the State, was in charge of R. Y. Williams, the mining engineer in charge of the rescue station already established by the United States Geological Survey under the recent law at the Illinois University, Urbana, Ill. He was being assisted by James M. Webb, of the same station, and they remained in Lexington a week, giving demonstrations. The demonstrations were given by the rescue service of the technological branch of the United States Geological Survey in co-operation with the College of Mining Engineering of the State University of Kentucky, not only for the benefit of the men in attendance upon the practical invitation extended by Dean Norwood to the Urban station to conduct the instruction in that branch of mining engineering, which had been decided upon by him as necessary to a complete education of Kentucky miners in the prevention of mine accidents and the best methods of handling such accidents when they occur. The object is to train men in the methods of rescue work in case of mine explosion, mine fires, etc., and also to render direct assistance from the station in case of such catastrophes at the mines. Messrs. Williams and Webb had with them all the necessary paraphernalia for the work, including oxygen helmets, cylinder of compressed gases, pumps for same, resuscitating apparatus, first aid to the injured, etc.

The demonstrations were given in the old frame building formerly instruction given was in the use of the oxygen helmets, which were placed in position on the men's heads and backs, completely excluding the outside air, breathing being made possible by reservoirs of oxygen charged with three hours' supply. Endurance tests were made in an atmosphere of sulphur, representing the poisonous gases to be encountered by rescuers in taking dead bodies from mines where explosions have occurred.

Among those attending were Oliver Roll, superintendent of the W. G. Duncan Coal Company's Luzerne mine, Muhlenberg county; William Williamson, superintendent of the Graham mine of the same company, at Red Ash, Whitley county, and Pope Alread, mine foreman of the same company; Greenville Lewis, mine company; T. G. Long, mine inspector, Hopkins county; William Burke, assistant mine inspector, Hopkins county; H. D. Jones, assistant mine inspector, Muhlenberg county; also representatives from the Sunset Coal Company, Hopkins county; Central Coal and Iron Company; McHale Coal Company; Doyoy Coal Company; Main Jellico Mountain Coal Company, Whitley county; Big Hill Coal Company, Bell county; West Jellico Coal Company, Whitley county.

While Kentucky is particularly free from mine accidents, owing to the splendid organization of the mine inspector office and the severity of the mine law upon those who disobey the instruction of the inspectors, it may be said that Gov. William and all the Kentucky Congressmen have used their utmost endeavors at Washington to present the unanimous desire of operators and miners for a rescue station here will prove the last additional safeguard the Commonwealth has thrown around the lives of 20,000 miners.

GOOD WORK

Done Daily in Earlinton. Many Citizens Tell of It.

Nearly every reader has heard of Doan's Kidney Pills. Their good work in Earlinton still continues, and our citizens are constantly adding endorsement by public testimony. No better proof of merit can be had than the experience of friends and neighbors. Read this case:

Perry McCulley, retired, Baptist Hill St., Earlinton Ky., says: "I never had an idea that I would allow my name to be used in connection with a medicine testimonial but I believe that it is my duty to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured at the St. Bernard Drug Store Co. The effect of this remedy on my system was gratifying. Before I finished the contents of two boxes, my kidneys were restored to their normal condition, the secretions were regulated and the pains in my back were removed. In fact, my health was so greatly improved that I scarcely knew myself. Taking into consideration my advanced age, this speedy cure was nothing less than remarkable."

Secure a Certificate.

Under the law the Western Normal has the power to issue the Elementary Certificate, the Intermediate Certificate, and the Life Certificate, which entitle the holders to teach anywhere in Kentucky for two years, four years, and life respectively, without further examination. Information as to the amount of work required for each certificate will be furnished when desired. Address H. H. Cherry, President, Western Normal, Bowling Green, Ky.

FACTS ABOUT MOTHER EARTH.

Points of Interest Concerning This Wonderful Globe, as Vouched for by Scientists.

Our dear old earth which seems immovable and solid as we go about our daily work or travel over its furrowed surface, is yet spinning, and rolling, and swaying in complex but orderly motion. Its axial rotation gives us day and night. Its circuit round the sun brings the seasons and the year. The circling of the poles produces the procession of the equinoxes. The planets perturb in its courses. The plain of its orbit sways up and down, and its perihelion is slowly shifted. The moon swings it around a center of gravity common to both, while the sun and all our system speeds onward to some far distant goal. And if the bright star in the Taurus is the central point round which this vast orbit sweeps then Alcyona is the center of the universe for us.

As far as astronomers can judge this motion through the vast abyss of interstellar space is at the rate of about a million miles a day, and it is in the direction of the constellation Hercules. The motion through space is believed to be away from Argus and toward Hercules. Some have thought that Alcyona in the Pleiades is somewhere near the center of the vast circuit swept over by the sun and his attendant worlds. If this is true, that beautiful star as it silently twinkles in the constellation Taurus becomes of surpassing interest to mankind.

Wood Chopping as a Sport.
In Tasmania is to be found a national pastime that is special and particular to that state alone—the sport of wood chopping. At Hobart and Launceston they have their turf meetings, their cricket football, golf, cycling, and so forth, but to a wood-chopping contest people will flock from far and near—men, women and children—and watch the ex-wilders hewing away at huge blocks of timber as if life and reputation depended upon the issue. Thus, about the axes, and the splitters fly in all directions, the judges calmly sitting near taking note of the strokes, the spectators cheering the competitors from time to time as frantically as if they were race horses. To be a wood-chopping champion means something to a man in Tasmania.

Crowding the Scenery.
The late Elmer Macartney Lane, the novelist, used to tell a story to illustrate the conviction she cherished that a superfluous detail in a story is a blemish and a disappointment. "Up in Gloucester one summer," said Mrs. Lane, "I remember the eternal amateur sat on the beach and produced a picture which included sea, sky, rocks, boats, wagons and people for a great artist to criticize. The latter looked at it a minute and then said quietly: 'Why didn't you put in the city of Chicago?'"

"I think most of us in our work to-day," Mrs. Lane concluded, "try to put in the city of Chicago."

Ireland's King Record.
When Ireland was in the king business it made a record which all the rest of the world can't beat. From A. D. down until the English began their tricks Ireland had 76 kings, and out of the lot only six died in bed. Sixteen were killed in battle, seven were slain by their successors, six fell by plain assassination, three were killed by thunderbolt, two died of plague, four entered monasteries, two were drowned, one died of grief, two were dehorned and one was choked by a fishbone.

Golden Mean

Fit Into Your Work or Get Out of It

By JOHN A. HOWLAND

MOST young men entering business should prepare for an almost inevitable depression which follows the elation natural upon securing a first entry into a chosen work. In proportion as this untold work is the ambition of the young man, the novice has reason to anticipate this mental reaction. In this way often the first few weeks of the young man's apprenticeship may be the most trying, and yet the most influential period of his life.

"Yes, I made a mistake in not sticking there when I had a chance," is the typical expression of regret that many a man has had to make when, later in life, he has been able to look back upon an opportunity which he has let slip him because of its undervaluation.

When it is considered that thousands of young men, too, take up their life work with no great attraction to it, this problem of preparation for the discouragements of the undertaking becomes especially momentous. In the life of most young men prior to entry into business most of their actions have been prompted wholly by the sense of enjoyment and pleasure to be found in them. They have cultivated intolerance for the disagreeable facts of life. In the case of such a young man, drawn to an especial work through rosy anticipations of its duties, the chance for a smashing of his idealism is serious.

Work in the abstract is a serious thing. It requires the serious attention and best efforts of the worker. Expenditure of these forces entails the physical and mental weariness which so easily leaves the worker open to the intrusion of depression. The condition is absolutely normal, yet often it invites the abnormal nursing of such a feeling until the victim has lost all sense of proportion with reference to himself.

What is the trouble with this dissatisfied young man? Somewhere between this dissatisfied young man and his employer something is wrong. To determine just what that trouble is and to correct it as soon as possible is essential. If the young man is at fault he cannot discover the truth too soon. If the employer is at fault, the change cannot be made too speedily.

The serious trouble with the young and inexperienced man, however, is that nursing his intolerances he may have an exaggerated view of his own hard position which his lack of experience elsewhere cannot serve to restore to an equilibrium.

Disaffection in the young employee is not wholly undesirable. Probably one of the blackest marks that might be set against the young worker could come of an absolute sense of satisfaction in his present work. To be supremely content in his present work, nursing no ambition even in secret to better his work in the world, must be indicative of decay. Here and there the necessities of business may make such a man desirable, but more often it is something upon which the organizer frowns.

Manifestly, somewhere between disaffection and the calm of absolute content, the young man must find the golden mean. He cannot escape the obligation which rests upon him to decide. "Looking for a job" too long has been exaggerated out of proportion to its importance; to reconcile one's self to a life work is of infinitely more importance. Fit into it—or get out. You can't escape the exaction.

German Capital Without Slums

By DR. PAUL ENGELHARDT

Berlin is a huge and splendid city, without slums. Its workmen are more decently and comfortably housed, therefore, than the wage earners of the other large European centers. Once it had some squalid and insanitary dwellings approximating slums, in which the poorer class lived, but the municipality bought up the entire district and tore down the wretched shacks. To-day thousands of its working people reside in the cleanest and most inviting parts of the city. Very often their abode is what is called a hinterhouse—that is, a small domicile built in the rear of some petentious apartment building. These usually look out upon the garden of the front house and usually consist of a couple of bright, sweet rooms, a kitchen and bath. For this sort of residence he will pay about $2 a week.

The German workingman does not have to wrestle with the out-of-employment problem to the extent that makes life a burden to the bread-winners of most lands. It would be a hard task to engage a man by the day in Germany, for under our law a worker must be given eight days to four weeks' notice before his employer can tell him he is no longer needed.

In addition he must be given opportunity to find a new place of service and the time he takes in looking it up must not be deducted from his wages. Moreover, I should say that the condition of those in Germany who make their living in the sweat of their brow is better than in any nation unless, perhaps, the United States.

Prophecies Never Come True

By CLAUDE D. WHEELER

From time to time letters are printed prophesying all sorts of calamities with apparently no foundation other than the writer's yearning for a chance to leap into the limelight—the "leap" being supplied by any disaster that should chance to happen which they could claim as a fulfillment of their prophecy, even if the forecast has to be bent and twisted to fit the disaster.

One curious fact about these "prophets" is that they seldom, if ever, prophesy anything good or cheerful. One predicts the destruction of all of Chicago lying south of Madison street. Another, a Michigan man, gratuitously makes the pleasant assertion that all of Chicago and all of the animals on the earth will be destroyed. Still another, a New Jersey astrologer, predicted volcanic eruptions, earthquakes, strife, strikes, riots, hard times, war, and the death of President Taft and a cold wave and snow went so far as to give a detailed description

1,000 BODIES RECOVERED

HUNDREDS ARE SEEN FLOATING DOWN STREAM.

Villages Along the Shores of Santa Catarina Are Completely Washed Away.

Monterey, Mexico., Sept. 1.—The total number of bodies recovered from along the shores of the Santa Catarina river total approximately 1,000.

In Monterey nine hundred is the total, while meagre reports from along the valley increase the number.

But little is known of the loss of life and property damage outside this city. Reports meagre from points down the valley but it is known the village of San Francisco is totally destroyed. The town of San Juan badly damaged, and the town of Camargo to the Rio Grande is reported to have been completely washed away. A rider from Oaxaca, this state, stated to the Associated Press correspondent that twenty bodies had been recovered from that place, that hundreds had been seen floating by with the river and that on his trip from Oaxaca to Monterey there was not a body in the ground or an arroyo that did not contain from one to ten left there by the receding

51 YEARS AT SAME DESK

W. Hallam's Service as Telegrapher Without Losing a Day —Is Never Ill.

Washington, Del., Sept. 1.—Isaac W. Hallam, the grand old man of the telegraph service in the United States, has completed the fifty-first year of continuous employment at the office of the Western Union company here to-day.

During all that time he has not missed a day at his desk with the exception of a furlough of one week that he took at the time of his marriage in 1858.

For continuous service as a clerk in connection with a telegraph company record is unparalleled. For years he reached the telegraph office at 6 a. m. to the minute and he has been just as punctual in leaving for home at 4:15 p. m. It is a fact that he has been set upon the daily routine of this man.

Hallam is in his 82d year, having been born at Mamaroneck, N. Y., on May 22, 1828. He entered the service of the Western Union company in Washington on Sept. 1, 1858, and he has not been ill during all these years.

W. GATES FEES MINISTER

Preacher Who Married Him and Got $5, Now Gets a Check for $1,000.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 1.—As John W. Gates, financier and mining magnate, was stepping into his private car here, a white-haired man had grown old preaching the gospel, stepped up to him and said: "Hello, John."

"How are you, Mr. Foster?"

"Mr. Gates."

Years ago the white-haired minister of the Little Methodist church at St. Charles, Ill. There one day, a member of his congregation, a young man and Della, a young girl in the Sunday school, were married. The young man was John W. Gates. The minister was his father. He gave you up for it now," wrote his check for $1,000 to the minister.

Avoid Trouble

Women, when threatened with a mishap, should take Cardui and prevent the trouble from occurring.

In your delicate condition it will save you much pain and misery. Thousands have tried Cardui before confinement and have found it of wonderful benefit.

Take CARDUI

Mrs. Fannie Nichols, of Mexico, Mo., writes: "Last year I was threatened with a mishap and Wine of Cardui helped me more than any other medicine. Now I have a fine healthy boy. I think Cardui the finest medicine I have for female troubles."

New Oliver No. 5

Sets Swiftest Pace Ever

Known in Typewriter Selling.

The wonderful new model Oliver No. 5, has taken the market by storm.

Its reception by the public has exceeded in enthusiasm anything we had dared to anticipate.

Employers and stenographers alike have welcomed it as the one machine that answers the multiplied need of the hour.

The cry is for Speed! Speed! Speed!—and the Oliver responds. The demand for Durability is filled by the sturdy, steel-clad Oliver. To call for a writing machine that will do many things and do each of them equally well, the Oliver answers with its unexampled versatility.

Its visible writing saves the strain on eye and brain. Its legibility lends beauty to its work. The letters that bear the Oliver imprint are the letters that seen to speak.

Oliver No. 5 fairly bristles with new and exclusive time-and-saving features. We have space to mention only a few of the more important ones.

—Disappearing Indicator shows exact printing point.

—Balance Shifting Mechanism saves operative effort.

—Line Ruling Device is fine for tabulated work.

—Double Release doubles convenience.

—Non-Vibrating Base insures stability. Yet with all of these added improvements, we have still further simplified the Oliver by fitting brains with metal.

Oliver No. 5 is a dream come true, the dream of Thomas Oliver crystallized into this wonderful mechanism of shining steel that embodies every possible requirement of a perfect writing machine.

Night On Bald Mountain.

On a lonely night Alex. Benton, of Fort Edward, N. Y., climbed Bald Mountain to the home of a neighbor, tortured by Asthma, bent on curing him with Dr. King's New Discovery, that had cured himself of asthma. This wonderful medicine soon relieved and quickly cured his neighbor. Later it cured his son's wife of a severe lung trouble. Millions believe it's the greatest Throat and Lung cure on earth. Coughs, Colds, Croup, Hemorrhages and Sore Throats are surely cured by it. Beat for Hay Fever, Grip and Whooping Cough. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

Wants a Ham Sandwich Mine.

Really, we cannot fully express our pleasure at the discovery of a new diamond field in South Africa. Now, if a ham sandwich mine, near enough to Macon for our children to work in, could be located, our happiness would be complete.—Macon News.

Constipation causes headache, nausea, dizziness, languor, heart palpitation, drastic physics gripe, sicken, weaken the bowels and don't cure. Doan's Regula act and gently cure constipation. 25 cents. Ask your druggist.

Unsurveyed Land in Arabia.

The London Times of recent date shows that Arabia is considered as containing one of the most considerable areas of unknown land in existence.

Hoppy Hop.

Are you just barely getting around by the aid of crutches or a cane? Unless you have lost a limb or have a deformity—if your trouble is rheumatism, lumbago, sprain, stiff joints, or anything of like nature use Ballard's Snow Liniment and in no time you can throw away your crutches and be as well as anyone. Price 25c., 50c., and $1.00. Sold by St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated, drug department.

Food for Pet Owls.

Young owls are easily raised on fresh meat. Up to the age of four or five weeks, beef and mutton finely chopped make a good food. After that, mice, rats and English sparrows, served whole, are in great demand and come nearest their natural food. These, if not too large, they will swallow whole.—St. Nicholas.

To Be Happy

You must have good health. You can't have good health if your liver is not doing its duty—slow but sure poisoning is going on all the time under such circumstances. Ballard's Hops makes a perfectly healthy liver—keeps the stomach and bowels right and acts as a tonic for the entire system. Sold by St. Bernard drug store, Incorporated.

By Order of the Deceased.

An Atchison man died lately, and when his remains were viewed at the funeral a placard was lying on his breast which read: "Now, will you let me alone?" There is a good deal of talk about the afterlife. The undertaker says he placed the placard there at the last request of the deceased.—Atchison Globe.

A Narrow Escape.

Edgar N. Baylis, a merchant of Robinsonville, Del., wrote: "About two years ago I was thin and sick and coughed all the time and if I did not have consumption, it was near to it. I commenced using Foley's Honey and Tar, and it stopped my cough and I am now entirely well, and have gained twenty-eight pounds, all due to the good results from taking Foley's Honey and Tar." Sold by St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated, drug department.

Bagged a White Tigress.

From India comes a story of an Albinotiger: A white tigress, eight feet eight inches in length, has been shot at Dhenkana state, Orissa. The ground color was pure white and the stripes were of a deep reddish black. The skin has been presented to the rajah of Dhenkana, who has had it mounted and placed in his palace. The hunters of that country say that it is the only white tiger they have seen.

Testifies After Four Years.

Carlisle Center, N. Y., G. B. Burhane writes: "About four years ago I wrote you that I had been entirely cured of kidney trouble by taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy. It entirely stopped the brick dust sediment and pains, and all of the symptoms of kidney trouble disappeared, and after four I am again pleased to state that I have never had any return of those symptoms, and I am evidently cured to stay cured." Foley's Kidney Remedy will do the same for you.

Cold Storage Eggs.

Some of those eggs now going into cold storage may never come out again, but will remain, like the gold reserve in the Bank of England, as a part of the capital stock of the cold storage concern. In some future geological era, as they are dug up, the experimenters of the day can have great fun seeing whether or not they will hatch out.—Chicago News.

$100 Reward $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Fate of the First Reformer.

The first reformer in any movement has to meet with such a hard opposition and gets so battered and bespattered that afterward, when people find they have to accept his reform, they will accept it more easily from another man.—Lincoln.

The Road to Success

has many obstructions, but none so desperate as poor health. Success to-day demands health, but Electric Bitters is the greatest health builder the world has ever known. It compels perfect action of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, purifies and enriches the blood, and tones and invigorates the whole system. Vigorous body and keen brain follow their use. You can't afford to slight Electric Bitters if weak, run-down or sickly. Only 50c. Guaranteed by all druggists.

Simple Cure for Stuttering.

A German writer declares that stuttering can be cured by simply enforcing the rule: "Do not open your mouth till you are quite clear in your head exactly what you want to say."

"Had dyspepsia or indigestion for years. No appetite, and what I did eat distressed me terribly. Burdock Blood Bitters cured me."—J. H. Walker, Sunbury, Ohio.

True Love.

There is but one mate for each man and woman in the world and until they recognize the fact and learn with patience to await the note of absolute conviction which is the one infallible guide to happiness, marriages will fall as they fall now and the church will give its empty blessing to those ill-assorted pairs whom God forever leaves unblessed.—Exchange.

Have You a Baby?

Then watch it closely. And above all things don't let it suffer any length of time and with worms—that is fatal. If its complexion gets yellow and pasty, if it is listless, cross or peevish, gets thin, suffers with flatulence, give it White's Cream Vermifuge. The only cure that never fails and has no bad effects.

Sold by St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated, drug department.

Pat of the Spanish Woman.

Evelyn Mitford, writing in the Queen, says that the women of the lower classes in Spain do not make calls nor read books, and have no "parties" in the American sense of the word. They do their household work and go to church, and that is all there is of life to them. Their husbands are very jealous of them, and they grow old and weary before their time.

A Common Error.

Many people delude themselves by saying "It will wear away," when they notice symptoms of kidney and bladder trouble. This is a mistake. Take Foley's Kidney Remedy, and stop the drain on the vitality. It cures backache, rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles, and makes every trace of pain, weakness and urinary trouble disappear. Why suffer longer and risk having Bright's disease or diabetes.

Sold by St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated, drug department.

Chance for a Bet.

Atchison people seem determined to force a certain bachelor to marry. For 20 years they have been "talking" about him, and wondering if he is going to marry this one or that one. Why can't people let the poor man alone? If he wants to be a bachelor, whose business is it? Every time he "goes" with a new girl, Atchison people begin betting on the result. (And incidentally we will bet five to one that his present steady doesn't land him.)—Atchison Globe.

Of Interest to Many.

For indigestion and all stomach troubles, take Foley's Orino Laxative. It gently stimulates the liver, regulates the bowels, and positively cures habitual constipation and biliousness. Clears the complexion of pimples and blotches, and is especially recommended for women and children, and it is mild, pleasant and effective.

Sold by St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated, drug department.

Quick! Mr. Druggist—Quick! A box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve—Here's a quarter—For the love of Moses, hurry! Baby's burned himself, terribly—Johnnie cut his foot with the axe—Mamie's scalded—Pa can't walk from piles—Billie has boils—and my corns ache. She got it and soon cured all the family. It's the greatest healer on earth. Sold by all druggists.

Algeria Taking to Condensed Milk.

Algeria, in common with many other of the backward countries of the east, is taking with avidity to one product of western civilization—condensed milk. The Swiss exporters get nearly all the trade.

Rules for Right Conduct.

If you want to be somebody, do something in the world which will benefit yourself and your fellows, lay the foundation of character strong and solid to resist the temptations and trials the world will put in your way in your onward march through life. Nail your colors to the mast of integrity and defend them with the ammunition of right thinking and well doing.

Never can tell when you'll smash a finger or suffer a cut, bruise, burn or scald. Be Prepared. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil instantly relieves the pain—quickly cures the wound.

Note for Wives.

It is said that no man can tell a fib and keep his big toe still. If the women will induce their husbands to take off their shoes before they begin to question them they can catch them in a falsehood every time.—Atchison Globe.

Pig Errantry.

The report of the cattle market committee presented at Colchester town council the other day contained an item as to a pig starving, followed by "Resolved, That the town clerk communicate with the offender, warning him against committing any offense in future." It was touching to hear that penitent animal giving its word of honor that nothing of the sort should occur again.—London Globe.

Has Poetry Enough; Wants Wood.

We have on hand more poetry than we can find room for. What we need is more wood. It is true the poetry is pretty wooden, but it doesn't fling out the warmth of oak and pine. We therefore prefer an ordinary load of wood to a cord of poetry.—Adams (Ga.) Enterprise.

Enthusiasm.

Nothing is so contagious as enthusiasm. It is the real allegory of the tale of Orpheus. It moves stones, it charms brutes. Enthusiasm is the genius of sincerity and truth accomplishes no victories without it.—Bulwer Lytton.

Don't let the baby suffer from eczema, sores or any itching of the skin. Doan's Ointment gives instant relief, cures quickly. Perfectly safe for children. All druggists sell it.

Saved by Brass Helmet.

Brass helmets worn by English fire fighters occasionally prove useful. At a recent fire 14 tons of glass fell on one man's head and completely buried him and when he had been dug out down to his shoulders another shower of glass came down and buried him again. He was in a hospital for four months and glass was coming out of different parts of his body for six months afterward, but he is still one of the best men of his company.

On Husbands.

There is always the consolation at the bottom of the cup of spinsterhood—"Better no husband than a bad one." And the bad ones are over-plenty.—Frances, in London T. P.'s Weekly.

A Burglar in Town

His name is "bad cough." He doesn't care for gold or silver but he will steal your health away. If he appears in your house arrest him at once with Ballard's Horehound Syrup. It may mean consumption if you don't. A cure for all coughs, colds and chest troubles. Price 25c., 50c. and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by St. Bernard Drug Co., Incorporated.

Cheeriness.

Cheeriness is a thing to be more profoundly grateful for than all that genius ever inspired or talent ever accomplished. Next best to natural, spontaneous cheeriness is deliberate, intended and persistent cheeriness, which we can create, can cultivate and can so foster and cherish that after a few years the world will never suspect that it was not an hereditary gift.—Heien Hunt Jackson.

The Spinster's Prayer.

"Dear Lord," is the favorite prayer of an Atchison spinster, "make me to see every time I come to thee with complaints what my married brothers and sisters have to put up with from their children, that I may cease my complaining, and be duly grateful that thou hast seen fit in thy wisdom to make a carefree spinster of me."—Atchison (Kan.) Globe.

Maybe He Does.

When we remember that a woodpecker often works his way into a tree with his bill, we wonder that a woodpecker doesn't have headache constantly.—Atchison Globe.

The revival at the Baptist church on in full blast. Rev. J. R. Evans is a revivalist of the first order. Several have professed a hope in Christ, while the mourners' bench is filled nightly with seekers for their soul's salvation. The officers of the church are ably assisting their pastor. We hope the good work will go on, and while we are on another fence, yet they have our prayers and presence when possible.

Mrs. Wm. Hancock entertained a few intimate friends at a lawn party on Saturday afternoon.

A clipping from a Kansas City newspaper gave the first news of the tragic death of Rev. H. H. Gordon, formerly pastor of the Baptist church of this city. The facts are as follows: Rev. Gordon and his wife had been away from home. On their return, the strong smell of gas roused their suspicion that some of the pipes were leaking. On entering the house he struck a match, which instantly ignited the gas with which the house was filled. Gordon was horribly burned all over the body and his wife badly burned about the head, face and arms. Two doctors were hastily called, but all their efforts were in vain and Rev. Gordon passed into "The Silent Beyond" in great agony. Rev. H. H. Gordon, so well known here, was a great preacher; denominational without fanaticism, brave without bragadoos, generous without flattery. When the U. M. W. threatened Earlington and caused much anxiety on the part of the St. Bernard Co., no man stood or worked more assiduously, or stood more strictly or encouraged our people more earnestly to stand "pat," as he put it, than he, now he has gone to his reward. As a pastor, a citizen and a man he was idolized by all, and all knew him well. He was buried in Kansas City, so reported, although at first reported that he would be brought to Henderson, Ky. To-day Earlington, Henderson and many others assemble around the grave, and with tear-stained cheeks, breathed silent prayers to Him "who notes the sparrows when they fall." All that can be done is done, so we write in saying, Rev. Gordon, farewell, "requiescat in pace."

Rev. P. S. Smith, who has been attending the Negro Business League at Louisville, has returned. He reports a great meeting and much important business transacted.

Mrs. Whitson Eaves, who has been seriously ill for some weeks is some better at this writing.

Mrs. Boyd Fort is still somewhat indisposed.

Joe X. Moore's little boy is very sick at this writing.

Mrs. Janie Morton is quite sick at this writing.

Mrs. Alice Tindell and daughter, Gladys, have returned to St. Louis.

Lucian Moore, who has been quite sick for some few days, is improving.

Mrs. Ben Frazier, who has been visiting friends and relatives in Gedrie has returned.

Humphrey Woodson is visiting his brother in Hopkinsville.

Garfield Fort and Miss Stella Hayes were married in Evansville, Ind., on the 28th, inst. It is reported that the happy young couple will grace Lake street, No. 49.

The member of Eastern Star will spend Saturday in Dawson. We are satisfied that the outing will be both profitable and enjoyable.

The uniform rank of the U. B. F. Lodge, better known as the Knights of Friendship, received the applicant at its last meeting. Drilling weekly will begin sharp and regular. Every Knight is ordered out drill drill nights. No one need expect to be carried on the roster who does not attend drills.

Miss Sallie Williamson will leave soon for Indianapolis on a visit to friends and relatives.

The Citizens of Morton's Gap, Wesley, Hecla and Earlington cordially requested to meet the cemetery committee at the new burying ground at Barnsley the second day in September, at 8 a. m., purpose of selecting and beautifying burial lots. Bring a lunch with you. The ladies' dinner. Come and stay all day.

TWELVE WORKMEN BLOWN TO ATOMS

MEN STAND OVER 700 POUNDS OF DYNAMITE WHEN EXPLOSION TAKES PLACE.

HURLED 90 FEET IN THE AIR

Bodies of Dead Beyond Recognition—Arms and Legs Are Scattered About—Cigarette Thrown Aside Lights Fuse.

Key West, Fla., Aug. 28.—As a result of the explosion of seven hundred pounds of dynamite at Bocaheica, twelve miles from Key West, on the Florida East Coast railway, twelve men are dead and five others seriously wounded.

Nine of the workmen met instant death and three died while being brought to the hospital here. The men were hurled high into the air and the bodies of the dead were almost beyond recognition, arms and legs being torn from the bodies of some while the faces of others were mere masses of flesh.

When the explosion occurred, the workmen were standing in water four feet deep and directly beneath them was the seven hundred pounds of dynamite ready for the blast when the men should stop work for dinner.

Cigarette Lights Fuse.

According to one of the wounded, a workman—one of the nine to meet instant death—threw a lighted cigarette to one side, not noticing that it fell into the box containing the fuses which were connected with the heavy charges of explosives beneath them. A few seconds and the men, water, mud and dirt were thrown seventy to ninety feet in the air.

BOY ADMITS DARK CRIME

12-Year-Old Harry Hutchings Confesses to Murder of Step Father Because of Punishment.

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 28.—In the confession of 12-year-old Harry Hutchings that he in cold blood shot to death his stepfather, Thomas Carragher, at New Virginia last February, detectives and county authorities say they have cleared up the most amazing and baffling murder mystery in the annals of Iowa.

Carragher, who was rated worth $100,000, was found dead near his home last winter under circumstances that did not preclude suicide but pointed to murder. Mrs. Carragher, whom the dead man married some years before through a matrimonial agency in Delaware, had gone back to visit at her old home and received notice of her husband's death there. She returned to New Virginia, attended the funeral of her husband, displayed no emotion, and within six weeks married George Brand, a Western cowboy, whom she took into her service after the murder.

Impromptu Dance at Rink

One of the most pleasant dances of the year was given at the Rink Tuesday night by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Leahy in honor of Miss Backus, of Evansville, who is visiting their daughter, Miss Annie. Quite a number of our young society people tripped the light fantastic until a late hour, splendid music was had. Miss Backus is a daughter of Henry Backus and is quite a favorite in her home city.

TO RISE IN BUSINESS LIFE.

Some Few Essentials Must Be Kept in Mind, and One of These is Advertising.

A man may have several carloads of ability. He may have brains and ideas and other desirable things. But all the ideas ever "Ideated" will not avail to raise a man who neglects that all important item of advertising. You simply must get attention. Of course, you can get attention by firing off a revolver during office hours, or you can do it by wearing loud clothes and proclaiming your kinship in the sporting fraternity. But most men who have risen from the ranks have carefully neglected to use methods of this kind.

Every office man must act as his own salesman. He must first prepare himself by increasing his efficiency. He must be able to do the work for which he is hired. Not only should he do that for which he is hired, but he must do that work better than it ever was done before.

When that item has been attended to it is then time to look about for more work.

The wise employe will keep his eye on the job ahead, or, better still, will look at a job which does not exist, but which should exist for the good of the business. The next step is to think out a selling talk that will get the attention, arouse the interest, create a desire, and bring about in the mind of the employer a desire to do what the live employe desires him to do.—The Bookkeeper.

WAS NOT STRENUOUS WORKER

Youth Forced to Confess That His Duties Were Not What Might Be Called Arduous.

The son of a rich father quit college a few weeks ago—he was in love, he explained, and couldn't keep his mind on his books. He wanted to go to work and make a place for himself in the world. So his father got him on the payroll of a bank in which he was a director. The young man's sweetheart—in her second year at Vassar—kept writing him how proud she was over his independence and asking just what position he held so she could tell the other girls. The young man side-stepped the question as to his prominence in the bank's organization, until, finally, his intended wrote him a peppery letter, saying that if he didn't give her the information by return mail she would be real angry. Then, after much thinking, the youth wrote her this:

"I've wanted all along to tell you about my position and would have done so before had I known myself. About all I do here is to raise a window when I come in the morning and put it down when I leave in the afternoon. The rest of the time I read or watch the others work. I don't know just what you could call my job. Better tell the girls that I'm the draught clerk. That will come the nearest to describing my duties."

Where Caesar Crossed Thames. Where did Julius Caesar cross the Thames? This sounds like one of the questions set by staid old examiners in search of information they failed to acquire in their youth. There are perhaps as many places claiming to be the site of the famous fording as there were claiming to be the birthplace of Homer. This week Brentford has stolen a march on other places and has erected a monument commemorating Caesar's crossing of the Thames there! Most historians and topographers agree in placing the point of crossing at Hainford at a point known as Cowey (i. e., Causeway) Stakes, and but little support is found for the Brentford theory. To many people a monument is the most convincing of evidence, and though there is little tradition to support the Brentford column, that column will no doubt serve to strengthen the tradition.—London Chronicle.

In a Bad Way.

An Atchison brakeman has a friend who was recently tried in the district court. The other day, when the trial was in progress, the brakeman was seen coming from the court house. "How is your friend coming along?" he was asked. "He's up on the highest limb of the tree and the county attorney is sawing it off," replied the brakeman.—Atchison Globe.

Those Deserving a Monument. Those only deserve a monument who do not need one; that is, who have raised themselves a monument in the minds and memories of men.—Hazlitt.

MASKED MEN HOLD UP VILLAGE BANK

CASHIER AND TWO CUSTOMERS KEPT IN REAR ROOM WHILE SAFE WAS LOOTED.

MAKE ESCAPE IN A CORN FIELD

Robbers Calmly Walk Out of Building and Get Good Start on Pursuers—Thirty Men Are in Pursuit of Bandits.

Mincola, Ia., Sept. 1.—Two masked men held up the cashier of the Mills County German bank here and escaped with $1,500 in cash. The cashier and two customers were kept in the back room of the bank by one of the robbers, while the second man took the money from the safe and counter.

The bandits fled afoot, and went east along the Wabash railroad toward Silver City near which place they disappeared into a corn field. The posse is in pursuit but has not secured any trace of the robbers. The robbery occurred just before the bank was ready to close for the day.

Robbers Secure $1,500.

Cashier F. P. Nipp was engaged in conversation with two farmers in a back room of the bank, when a lone masked man appeared at the door and at the point of a revolver, made the three men hold up their hands. While the cashier and the two farmers were held at bay in the back room, the second bandit entered the building by the front door and proceeded behind the desk and pocketed all the cash in the bank which amounted to $1,500. The two robbers then told the three men to keep still and calmly walked out of the back door of the bank and fled down a back street toward the Wabash railroad.

They hurried east along the railroad and were seen to disappear into a corn field a few miles from Silver City. As soon as the robbers were gone, the cashier gave the alarm and a posse was formed.

About thirty men were in this and on horses they started after the robbers. Up to a late hour, however, they had found no clue to the bandits.

It is believed the two robbers had horses in waiting for them near the cornfield into which they went and they made their escape on these. The two robbers came to Mincola Sunday night.

MISPLACED PUBLIC MONEY

Mayor McClellan of New York Is Charged With Squandering Funds Exposing Political Opponents.

New York, Sept. 1.—Charges against Mayor McClellan filed with Governor Hughes by Bird S. Coler, president of the borough of Brooklyn, were made public here. Mr. Coler alleges that Mayor McClellan has squandered money in investigations ordered by his commissioner of accounts and that these investigations have been aimed solely at his political opponents for political purposes and not for the general good of the city government. In the investigations of the offices of the president of the borough of Brooklyn alone Coler charges that he mayor has "misplaced public funds of the city of New York to the extent of at least $100,000."

Broker's Name Cleared.

New York, Sept. 1.—F. M. Brundshaw, a broker and mine operator, who was arrested here on August 7, at the request of authorities in Tennessee, charged with embezzlement and fraudulent breach of trust in connection with a mining company in Mexico was discharged. A written admission was presented from the Tennessee officers that the charges were groundless.

"Johnny C. Mc" Expert Dead.

Montclair, N. J., Sept. 1.—Hester Campbell, a famous coach coach, who was employed for years in the family for former President Roosevelt died here at the age of 70. He was a member of the National Academy of Sports and was a well-known figure in the sports world.

TRAIN CRASHES INTO AUTO

FIVE ARE INSTANTLY KILLED NEAR ST. LOUIS.

President of the Witte Hardware Company and Four Are Mangled Beyond Recognition.

St. Louis, Aug. 30.—Five St. Louisans met instant death when a Rock Island accommodation train crashed into the automobile of Fred O. Witte at Slegus, Mo., near here.

Fred Witte, who is president of the Witte Hardware company, 704 North Third street; Mrs. Charles Klinge of 17144 Missouri avenue; Mrs. Halcan Campbell of 2307 Whittemore place, and Theodore F. Witte, Jr., the three-year-old son of Theodore F. Witte, who was driving the machine, were killed outright and their bodies mangled beyond recognition.

Theodore F. Witte jumped from his post at the steering wheel and was rushed in another auto to the Jewish Hospital, Bell and Delmar avenues, a distance of ten miles, but died fifteen minutes after arriving there.

The party were returning from a ride on the county roads and were running slowly when they reached the Rock Island tracks. Hidden by a curve on the track, the rapidly approaching accommodation could not be seen until it was only fifty yards away.

It bore down upon the fated party under a full head of steam and struck the car squarely in the center, completely demolishing the machine and throwing its occupants far from the tracks.

TALKS TO SABBATH FANS

Only Sin of Sunday Base Ball Is For the Home Team to Lose, Declares Minneapolis Pastor.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 30.—The initiation of religious prohibitions to Sunday baseball games occurred here when Rev. G. L. Morrill delivered a short address before the Minneapolis-Kansas City game at Nicollet park. Fully seven thousand persons were in attendance and listened intently when Mr. Morrill spoke. He was introduced by Captain King, and quiet reigned throughout the park during the service.

"The west," said Mr. Morrill, "is never content to be behind the east in any progressive movement, and will not take a back seat when baseball religious services are considered. For myself, I do not usually attend Sunday games, because I go every other day in the week; but there is no reason why others than myself should not enjoy the sport. 'Live and let live,' is a pretty good motto, and I believe that this crowd is largely made up of men who have but this one weekly chance to see the Minneapolis club fight for the pennant. I believe the only sin of Sunday base ball is for the home team to lose, so I say to the Minneapolis boys, 'Go in and clinch a notch toward the flag.'"

GUILT DENIED BY SHIRK

Declares He Made Bank Shortage Good Out of His Own Personal Funds.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—Elliott W. Shirk, millionaire banker, who maintains a residence both in Indianapolis and Chicago, was arrested at the Customhouse and is out on bond charged with misappropriating $24,252.50 belonging to the First National Bank of Tipton, Ind., of which he is president and principal stockholder. Shirk declares that his arrest is a technicality and that he is innocent.

Before United States Commissioner Foote he waived examination and furnished a 2,000 bond for his appearance in court in Indianapolis in November.

W. H. Marker, cashier, and Noah Marker, his brother, and assistant cashier of the Tipton bank, are charged with looting the Tipton bank. Noah Marker is now under arrest for connection with the bank's funds, while there is a warrant out for his brother, said Mr. Shirk. "The day before the money disappeared the bank took up a note for $24,252.50 which was owing to me."

Boys Pace Obstructions on Road and Awaited Developments When Discovered.

St. Louis, Aug. 30.—An attempt to wreck the Chicago and North Western train, on the Illinois River, was discovered by a patrolman in time to prevent a collision, which was averted.

Two boys had placed frog blocks and rails of the rails south of the bridge.

They were caught by a patrolman and taken to the station.

The boys were released after a warning.

Just a little time to help the day along. Just a little love. The burden of the day.

When the bells ring On his wedding day. Didn't have the money. Preacher for to pay.

Asked the man for credit. So the knot was tied. Gracious, that's a funny way to take a bride.

Poor as any woodchuck. But he didn't care. Said that love had made him twice a millionaire!

A Truthful Verdict.

Fargo, N. D., once boasted a composite postmaster and coroner. He was called one day to give his verdict upon the case of a stranger who had been the victim of a fit on the main street.

As the man was known to nobody, he was hurried to the much prized new city hospital. There the case was diagnosed as appendicitis, but when the operation took place the attending surgeon discovered that the patient had been previously relieved of his appendix.

The doctor endeavored to retract his steps, but the strange man died from the effects of the operation.

The postmaster-coroner, in rendering his verdict, filled in the space, after "Cause of Death" with a rubber stamp, which read, "Opened by Mistake."—Success Magazine.

Louis Cross-Eye.

A doctor, visiting a small country town, went over the local museum. After admiring one or two of the exhibits, the curator, who was an old man, said:

"Ah, but we've got a chair here that belonged to Louis Cross-Eye." "Oh," said the doctor, "who was he?"

"Don't you know, sir? Why, he was one of the kings of France."

"King of France? Louis Cross-Eye? There must be some mistake. Show me the chair."

The old man promptly complied, and pointed with conscious pride to a ticket inscribed:

"Once the property of Louis XI."

MOVABLE.

Miss Pense—I wonder what he meant when he said my teeth were like stars. Lady Friend—Probably that they come out at night.

Our Aggregation.

These leaders our ball leaders are. That is to say. They would be leaders was the league. Headed the other way.

Impossible.

"I see that fellow pass by every evening with a clarinet." "Perhaps so, but he isn't a musician."

"How do you know he isn't a musician?" "Because he plays in the Salvation Army band."

More Appropriate.

"Lord Broken has arrived," remarked the tall chairman, "and he has 'M. P.' behind his name."

"Yes," chuckled one of his lordships creditors, "but it should be 'N. P.'"

"N. P.?"

"Yes; 'never pay.'"

A Faux Pas.

"How do you happen to be here?" asked the sympathetic lady visitor. "I was caught on the wrong side of a residence," answered the prisoner.

"And how was that?"

"I was on the inside when I should have been on the outside."

One Exception.

"I think," said the merchant, "I'll have to fire your friend Polk. I never saw any one quite so lazy."

"Show in everything, is he?"

"No, not everything. He gets tired quick enough."

The Style of Other Days.

"An old-fashioned editor, you say?" "Yes, he belongs to the old school. There is a jug of whiskey in his desk for his friends and a sixshooter for his enemies."

Hard to Understand.

"It's hard to understand human nature."

"For instance?"

"Well, for instance, some men like to be motor cycles."

Hard to Tell.

"It's hard to tell a doctor's words from a politician's."

"Advice."

"I'll tell you."

EIGHT HUNDRED BODIES BURIED

IT IS NOW ESTIMATED THAT 2,000 LIVES WERE LOST IN SANTA CATARINA VALLEY.

SMALL FOOD SUPPLY ARRIVES

Water Recedes and Appalling Conditions Are Revealed—Victims Are Being Recovered From Banks Along the Stream.

Monterey, Mex., Aug. 31.—With eight hundred bodies recovered and buried in Monterey up to tonight, two thousand is now the estimate of the city authorities, of those who lost their lives throughout the valley of Santa Catarina river.

The number of homeless, many destitute, is placed at between fifteen and twenty thousand.

The Santa Catarina river at Monterey has subsided sufficiently to permit a passage into the district lying to the south, and a visit to that section by a correspondent of the Associated Press revealed an appalling condition.

People who had been saved from the flood of Saturday morning had been without food until Monday, when on some cables, a small amount of bread and beans was gotten across.

Five Blocks Swept Away.

The river was still running swiftly, and in order to get across it was necessary to wade through half a mile of water, so as to avoid the current which was still strong enough to sweep a man from his feet.

Once on the south side of the river, evidence of the terrible destruction wrought by the flood were to be seen on every side. Five blocks of the district were as though they had never existed, and in the remaining portion of the district bodies were being taken from the ruins and buried by a party of gen d'armes sent across for the purpose.

At 4 o'clock 400 bodies had been recovered and were buried on the hillside south of San Luisito. Thus, with the same number buried yesterday, making in all 800 bodies which have been recovered in Monterey alone.

No Americans Are Missing.

Thus far no Americans have been reported lost, and it is not expected that any of them are missing, as few foreign families resided in the district.

Reports from the country up and down the valley are meagre and hard to obtain, as all telegraph communication has been cut off in these districts.

rections; but from what has been learned the number of dead has been placed at two thousand, and the homeless at between fifteen and twenty thousand people. These people are in destitute circumstances and relief is badly needed.

Reports from down the river state that many bodies have been recovered, but there are many that will be unaccounted for as the Santa Catarina bed is filled with quicksands, and many of those lost have beyond doubt disappeared in these sands.

Liberal Contributions Received.

The authorities are doing all in their power and the Federal government has sent fifty thousand dollars in money and provisions for the relief of the sufferers. Contributions have been received from San Antonio and New York City firms which have agencies in this city have authorized their representatives to contribute liberally to any fund being raised for relief.

Many houses have fallen from the effects of the continued rains which have occurred during the seventy-two hours ending at noon Sunday. During this time 21 7-8 inches of rain fell in Monterey and up the Santa Catarina region.

Among the buildings destroyed was the San Francisco church, which was the oldest building in the city, having been built in 1652.

Capture Criminal in Swamp.

Toledo, O., Aug. 31.—Accused of attacking an 8-year-old girl in Forest cemetery, Ed Bell, or Bellive, of unknown residence, was pursued by a crowd of residents of the neighborhood and took refuge in a swamp. He was pulled out by policemen who swam out to where the fugitive was imbedded up to his armpits in mud and water.

March to Music As Building Burns.

New York, Aug. 31.—Fire destroyed the St. Malachy's Roman Catholic home at Rockaway Park, Long Island. The loss is estimated at $100,000. When the alarm was sounded, the one thousand children in the institution were marched safely down the fire escapes to the music of their fife and drum corps.

Old Pensioner a Bigamist.

New Albany, Ind., Aug. 31.—John C. Sanders, 75 years old, who came to this city from Dayton, Ohio, was arrested, charged with bigamy. It is alleged on information furnished by the pension department, that Sanders has four wives. He was accompanied here by Mrs. Lucretia Daugherty, to whom he was married in Dayton, for months ago, it is charged.

Breaking It Gently.

An army captain, returning from India, brought with him a pair of laughing jackasses, which he entrusted to one of the sailors, Tom Finch. Alas! shipboard life did not agree with the creatures, and, in spite of all Tom's care, they pined and died.

Tom was in despair. "I daren't tell the captain!" "Don't shirk it, mate," said his pal. "Break it to him gently. You'll find it'll be all right." The advice seemed sound, and Tom sought the gallant captain. "Scuse me, sir," he said. "You know them things below—what you call larfin jackasses? Well, sir, they ain't got nuffin to lart at this morning."

That Was Easy.

It was in an Italian settlement kindergarten. The children were marching like soldiers, when Giovanni suddenly stopped and called out, "George Wash—him soldier, too!" and pointed with his very dirty little hand to a picture of Washington, who, mounted on his horse, was holding his hat in his hand acknowledging the greetings of the populace.

"Why do you suppose George Washington has his hat in his hand?" asked the kindergarten, stopping to draw for the hundredth time a lesson in courtesy.

"To catch de penines," was Tony's prompt reply.—Harper's.

A New Version.

Hewitt—In this world a man is either a hammer or an anvil. Jewett—You mean either an automobile or a pedestrian.

Without Doubt.

It incubators worked as well. As their ads. say at every turn. There can't be any doubt at all. The whole world would have chicks to burn.

He Knew.

"Do you know how to use a chaffing dish?" "Yes," answered Sirius Barker. "I have some novel ideas on the subject."

What are they?

"The best way I know of to use a chaffing dish is to punch a hole in the bottom of it, paint it green, and plant flowers in it."

Too Trusting.

The early robin freely acknowledged that as a harbinger of spring it had been a failure this time.

"I was fooled by the boys playing marbles in the streets," pleaded the bird, in extenuation.

For there are times, as Solomon or some other wise man has remarked, when all signs fail.

Martyrs to Science.

At Lisbon, during the plague, Dr. Camera Pestana was infected while searching for plague in a person supposed to have died of pneumonia. It was plague; and the intrepid searcher died also. He wrote down his horrible symptoms to the very end, for the benefit of medical science.

There's a Reason for It.

When an actress gets old enough to be willing to publish all her love letters it may be taken for granted that the last of her copy was in several years ago.

IS NEED FOR DEFINITE RULE.

Writer in Woman's Publication Deplores Custom of Indiscriminate Gift Giving.

Just how much are the parents responsible for the indiscriminate giving of presents between boys and girls? Of course, certain rules of etquette obtain in certain classes of society, but there is a mass outside, in the country and small towns, who are not governed by the rules laid down by Madam Grundy. There seems to be a tendency toward expensive gifts among the young people of today. Should a young girl be allowed by her parents to accept gifts other than candy, flowers, music and looks from her boy friends? The question often comes up in the homes when some boy, all in good faith, gives the girl friend a bit of expensive jewelry. Some mothers, at once, compel the girl to return the gift and that ends the friendship and causes an embarrassing situation. Of course, there are girls, without conscience or that fraternal refinement which every good wholesome girl possesses, who just go with a boy for the sake of the gifts lavished upon her.

Now, does the responsibility of indiscriminate giving rest with the parents of the boy or the girl? If the boy was trained by his mother not to offer expensive presents to the girls until Miss Right comes along, it would save many a heartache. If the girl has been properly instructed,
could not she, in an unobtrusive way, give the boy to understand that such gifts were not desirable? Indiscriminate giving between boys and girls often causes an innocent friendship to degenerate into mawkish sentimentalism.—The Housekeeper.

ONLY USED SAFETY MATCHES.

Tender-Hearted Man Explains Why
He Has Given Up the Other Kind.

"I never carry any but safety matches," said the orator in the red, white and blue vest. "It's a matter of conscience with me."

"Why so?" inquired the drum major.

"Because," said the orator, "when the world uses safety matches exclusively, phossy jaw will disappear. You know what phossy jaw is? It's the rotting away of the jawbone, as horrible an ill as leprosy, that is contracted by the workers—poor duffers—in factories where strike-anywhere matches are made. Phossy jaw comes from white phosphorus. White phosphorus is the base of strike-anywhere matches, but in safeties there's not a grain of it, and so in safety-match factories phossy jaw is unknown."

"It always seems to me," concluded the orator, "when I scratch a strike-anywhere match, that I am helping to give some poor girl or boy worker phossy jaw. But when I scratch a safety, then I feel like Flexner in his Rockefeller Institute or Metchnikoff in his laboratory—I am helping to rid the world of disease."

How to Inclose a Stamp.

"There's only one decent way to inclose a stamp for a reply," said the head of a large business, "and that is to use one of the stamps from the outside rows of a sheet with a blank margin that can be stuck upon the letter and leaves the stamp ready for use.
Any other way either loses the stamp or else spoils it for use. But I found to-day a trick that is pretty good.
Most people inclose the stamp by putting it down at one corner, and then you have to paste that corner down when you use the stamp. The new trick is to wet the stamp in a little space in the center and stick it there. It pulls off easily, yet when you use the stamp all the edges have been enough to stick."—Farm Machinery.

Flowers Without Follage.

One of the most extraordinary flowers in cultivation is Hall's amaryllis, which reverses the order of nature by blooming in midsummer without any follage. Ordinary bulbs bloom in spring and rest in summer, but Hall's amaryllis suddenly appears out of the bare ground during the dry season.
This extraordinary plant has fragrant, rosy lilac flowers which are bordered with yellow. In the spring the leaves make their growth, die down, and after a long interval of rest the flower stalks appear with the buds open here described.—Garden Magazine.

Versatile Destiny.

A man becomes a fan and soon loses his health and home. Another yearns to shuffle off this mortal coil and gets kicked into a prison cell by his lusty bachelor. Another learns to his surprise, as thousands have learned before him in various ways, that there are all kinds of unsuspected dangers in sitting on a sofa with a young woman.
A wife may spring a divorce, a father may take a sudden notion to kick or spank, and lightning may yank an innocent young man away from his girl and make dents in the ceiling with him. Destiny is a surprisingly versatile thing, with a million and one ways of knocking human plans galley-west.

A Deal That Fell Through.

"Hercule Poirot was rather exacting as to the deal."

"That wasn't what broke the on-deal," answered Mr. Cyprien. "It was the young man who was killed when the deal was made."

BILL STUBBS OF KANSAS.

Kansas views the activities of the new governor with feelings of almost unmixed joy. But the railways, whom he disciplined with an anti-pass law and several other forms of drastic legislation besides the public commission bill, have another idea about him.

"What do you think of Stubbs?" a visitor asked one of the ex-railway lobbyists.

"Well," he replied, "he reminds me of the story of a North Carolina wedding. They as the Lord have joined, let no man put asunder," says
the parson.

"Parson," says the bridegroom, "I rise to question your grammar in that sentence. We wants this weddidone right."

"When the smoke had cleared away
the bride looked around on a dead minister, a dead brother, a dead bridegroom and several other dead men lying near, and sighed:

"Them new-fangled, self-cookin' revolvers," said she, "sure has played hell with my prospects."

Salting a Diamond Mine.

Howard DuBois, the noted mining engineer, told a good story to the Teeb men recently, illustrating the "art" of salting a diamond mine. The story was told of a man in South Africa who, while walking one day over his property, suggested that they assay some of the soil.

In the search that ensued eight rough diamonds were found and offers began to fly through the air at a rapid rate for the land, when the host's wife called out to her husband, "Why, John, where are the other two?" The sequel of the story was left to the imagination.

Discipline!

From the classroom occupied by the roughest boys in the Sunday school came a great uproar. A secretary in the next room went to investigate.
Complete silence followed the opening of the classroom door.

"Have you a teacher?"
"No."
"Do you want one?"
"No."
"Then be quiet or you'll get one."
Result, comparative peace.—Manchester Guardian.

GRATED ON JURY'S FEELINGS.

Lawyer's Oratorical Flight Well Meant, But It Did Not Tend to Help His Client.

According to an Indiana lawyer, the verdict of the jury in a case tried in that state was distinctly influenced by an unfortunate break made by a youthful attorney in his closing address.

The defense put forward had been
that the defendant was an imbecile, and consequently was unable to distinguish between right and wrong. In his summing up the young lawyer made clever use of this point; but, when about to close, expressed himself in this extraordinary manner:

"Gentlemen of the jury, gaze upon this unfortunate defendant. Regard, gentlemen, that receding forehead,
the significant angle of those ears, the lack-luster expression of those eyes. Need I remind the gentlemen of the jury that these are unmistakable evidences of Nature's deprivation of the power to distinguish right from wrong? Ignorant of this distinction between right and wrong, gentlemen of the jury, how can this poor imbecile be convicted of the charge brought against him? Why, gentlemen, this unhappy man is like a two-year-old child—he neither knows why he does a thing nor how. Therefore, gentlemen, it is with peculiar pride
I reflect that, such are the institutions of this, the greatest and most glorious of all nations, that my client, imbecile though he be, to-day stands for a trial by a jury of his peers!"—

YSAYE GOT PRECIOUS VIOLIN.

Renowned Virtuoso Owes Possession of Instrument to the Generous Act of a Friend.

An interesting story is told of M.
Eugene Ysaye. In his younger and poorer days he was very anxious to secure a Guadagnini violin which he saw in a pawnbroker's window in Hamburg. Although he had not the wherewithal, he asked the pawnbro-ker to lay it aside, as he might be able to purchase it some day. The man agreed to keep it for a certain time. Ysaye went back to his rooms with very mingled feelings. How could he raise the necessary money?
That was the question which puzzled and worried him. To his great surprise he met a friend who had just arrived from Belgium, and in despair begged him to lend him enough to buy the wonderful instrument. "It's a large sum to pay," said the friend,
"and I haven't enough money with me." "Would you lend it if you had?"
asked the violinist. "Yes," was the reply. "Look here, then," said Ysaye,
"you deal in diamonds?" "Yes." "Then leave a few diamonds as security and get me the precious Guadagnini." Ysaye's friend was surprised at the earnestness of the request, consented to do so. "In this way," says Ysaye, "I was married to my first love among the fiddles—my Guadagnini."

Her Good Excuse.

On his estate in the Catskills a New York man employs a great deal of local help, giving the farmers and their folk the preference whenever possible, in his big-hearted way. Not long ago, his cook needed an assistant and he engaged a neighboring farmer's wife to come over the next day. When she arrived at 7:30 a. m.
she apologized for being late and explained that before leaving home she had got breakfast for the family of six, had put up a lunch for her husband and one son, who were going to work in the field, and another lunch for three of the children who were going to school, had milked five cows, fed the pigs and chickens and walked a mile to the New York man's place.
He said he would excuse her for not getting there at six.

Richard Wagner.

"Every one finds some fault with Wagner, but that is because he is a mountain, a huge bulk of a soul with black caverns, scarred edges, barren wastes and empty craters. He has been weather-stained, mud-spattered, lightning-struck, dynamite-blasted, but still he is a mountain; his thrust is upward, the peak is snow and sunshine, and he commands the horizon.
He belongs with the master heights of human glory, with Homer, Dante, Shakespeare, Milton, Michelangelo,
Beethoven; and he is of a bigness with the highest."—Rupert Hughes in Cady's Magazine.

Dickens Family Lost Big Fortune.

Dickens was one of the most ancient and fanciful of all authors. His last son, a genius, was starving in a garret. "Dickens" placed him above board at 25, and for a period of 30 years following his publication in 1857 he received a princely income on his writings. His American tour brought him $50,000. His estate at his death in 1870 was estimated at $400,000. That his grandchildren should now be in need of the trifling pension bestowed on them is a painful illustration of the vicissitudes of family fortune.

A Dreary Land.

The country from Jerusalem to the Jordan valley is as dreary and desert as could be imagined.
The hills look like great banks of rock and sand, and even the Sahara is not more dreary. The only greenness is in the Jordan valley, where the water is sweet and the soil is fertile. That is why the Jews have always lived there.

THE LANGUAGE OF THE GAME.

"He anhed to the A-one sack!"
"The postle welder even was whiffed!"
"Cups waved the factor way back!"
"A Wilbur Wright the batter biffed!"
"His boys again, O' brother all!"
The pleasing language of baseball.

"He leaped against the hurler's slant!"
"The catcher pegged him by two feet!"
"Of bingles we were somewhat scant!"
"Such spiltball serves were hard to beat!"

Beside it classic tongues seem tame—
The language of the glorious game.

"He whanged the sky, elusive pill!"
"The garden guardian speared the sphere!"
"The blunderbuss yelled: 'Oh, you Bill!'"
"Red Casey was the cannonier!"
No doubt of it—spring has the door—
When baseball talk has bloomed once more.

Some Eating.

An Icelandic legend relates that upon one occasion Thor ate without any assistance, save that of being provided with the rations, eight salmon, a full-grown ox, a large quantity of sweetmeats and three fir-kins of "sparkling mead." No wonder he was a husky god and was a fine hand with a hammer. The bold men of the north strove to emulate Thor's prowess as a trencherman at every feast they had, sometimes with astonishing success. Those were indeed brave days, before indigestion had come to vex the world and centuries before man ever dreamed that he had an appendix.

That Kind of a Man.

The Georgians of Augusta are chuckling over a new anecdote about Mr. Taft.

Mr. Taft, it seems, drove out one afternoon to see a Georgia planter.
The planter's cook, a very old woman,
takes no interest in public affairs,
and she did not recognize the portly guest.

"What did you think of that gentleman, Martha?" the planter asked, after Mr. Taft had driven off.

"Well, sir," old Martha replied, "I can't say as I saw nothin' pertekler about him. He looked to me like the kind of man as would be pretty reglar to his meals."

"You Must Get Up Steam"
Before the Engine Will "Go!"

An engine does not run today because there was a fire, and steam, in it yesterday. Nor does it run because it's a good engine---the best in the railroad yards; nor because people are in the habit of seeing it run, and know that it CAN run.

The fireman has to build a fire in it
TODAY if it is to be useful today.

A store is not a busy store unless it is advertised today. It's not busy because it is "well known;" nor because it is a good store, and well located. It "goes" because of the publicity steam that is gotten up TODAY.
